Kaizen K9 is a Perth based business that supplies dog training, coaching, seminars, and trained dogs for military, police and civilians.

Ben Geurts (Head Trainer) has been working with dangerous dogs since 1999. His experience includes dog handling and training with Army Military Police and then the RAAF Military Working Dog (MWD) program, instructing on numerous MWD training courses, employment within the Special Operations Command (SOCOM) as a Dog Liaison Officer (DLO), and redesigning the WA Police canine program.

He has also been assisting civilians with aggression issues since 2015. Ben has and continues to deliver training to Police, Military, and other government agencies. Kaizen K9 recently delivered this training to the RSPCA and the City of Joondalup, with excellent feedback provided.

Topics that will be covered include:

- Planning – the importance of being prepared. Considerations regarding the management, approach, handling, and when entering a premises.
- Safety Precautions
- Canine body language – distance increasing and distance decreasing signals
- Breed specific considerations
- Types of aggression
- Approaching dangerous dogs
- Preventing Bites
- Actions on being bitten
- What a bite feels like – We will safely afford some participants the opportunity to experience a bite (using a protective bite suit)

Please note that limited numbers apply, so please register to avoid disappointment. Unfortunately once the allocated places are filled, no further registrations will be accepted.
